

Cultural Capital Weekend

AHLS were thrilled to host Year 10 students from three Feltham schools for an amazing NCOP Cultural Capital Weekend following a successful bid from Springwest Academy. The students stayed over-night in undergraduate accommodation at Kingston University where they were treated to fun-filled activities, delivered by Amy from the KU Widening Participation Department. Student ambassadors from various universities, including Kingston, stayed with the students over-night and throughout the next day.

The following morning it was off to the city centre and a virtual reality experience at the Science Museum; Space Descent narrated by Tim Peake. The next stop after lunch was to the Fortune Theatre to see a fabulous performance of The Woman in Black. The weekend was rounded off by a lovely meal in Bella Italia on The Strand.

This was a marvellous opportunity, introducing the students to the realities of under-graduate living and the delights of their capital city. The students were all perfectly behaved and had an amazing time. Well done to Mr Matheson of Springwest Academy for designing this unique experience!
