

Minho's Account

I have matched with my mentee Claire studying Art and Design, which is my major. Claire is a responsible student who plans on studying at university. I support her in finding her own answers to questions independently.

My role is to reflect on whether there is something stopping her in her everyday life, and to help her with planning and achieving her small targets as well as her big goals. For example, she is busy with her portfolio preparation and this prevents her from getting information about her future subject.

I was able to remind her, and she researched a list of universities and courses she is interested in, and their requirements.

Moreover, many A/AS-level students who attend the Art and Design course worry about how to build their portfolios.

Claire was also worrying about this, and I encouraged her to ask how she could evaluate herself, to help her think about the portfolio criteria.

The most impressive session was when we visited Tate Modern together.

Claire seemed to be experiencing a lack of inspiration because she is really busy with her school programme.

After the visit, she told me that she is interested in an artist, Donald Judd, and started to research about him for her portfolio.

It was also a great time for me to share ideas about artworks with her.

I feel a sense of satisfaction whilst working in this program.

I would like to recommend it to my friends because it has helped me a lot in my listening and communication skills.
