

GET INTO BANKING AND FINANCE

aimhigher
L o n d o n

Do you have learners who are thinking about studying law at university?

Tuesday 26th January 4:30pm

Learners are invited to attend a live presentation by people who work in the financial sector. They will talk about the different opportunities finance graduates have, as well as pathways to work in the banking world. Panellists will answer questions emailed to them beforehand as well as questions participants have on the day. Hosted by Coventry University. (Participants must be 16 or over and join via their own computer/phone.)

To book places, please email C.Chapman@kingston.ac.uk with the names of students who want to take part. We will then contact you with the Zoom link.

Torri Wang - chair

Dr. Yu Wang worked in accountancy in China and the U.K. before becoming interested in international students' experience in U.K universities. She has undertaken doctoral research on Chinese students on business, finance and accounting undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the U.K. Her current job involves teaching financial accounting and providing academic and pastoral support for international students.

Sue Kendrick - HSBC

Business Policy Manager in HSBC Private Bank, focusing on policies and procedures to combat financial crime. She has worked at HSBC for 5 years, and previously worked on projects at various other banks to implement new legislation and regulations.

Cat Hines - Bank of England

Joined the Bank in 1997, having joined through the A-Level entry programme. Having worked in a number of business areas after joining the Bank, and after studying for a Postgraduate Diploma in HR Strategies. Since then, Cat has held various roles in the Bank. Her current role is as the Bank's Diversity Lead, supporting colleagues and business areas across the Bank work to build an inclusive working environment.

Dr Sallyanne Decker

Her research focuses on the areas of credit union development, corporate social responsibility in the financial services sector and structural change and competition in banking. Dr Decker has been an Associate Consultant for the Association of British Credit Unions since 2003 and was an appointed Chief Examiner of the Institute of Financial Services' Award in Credit Union Practice from 2008 - 2011. She is also a member of the Association of Business Executives and a Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy.

*LINK TO ZOOM USE POLICY